

Wykeham House School Aims

At Wykeham House we are committed to achieving academic success for each of our girls whatever their ability. Small classes allow interactive learning, real progress and understanding. Teaching methods combine modern technology and techniques with traditional rigour. At all stages there is much emphasis on necessary study skills, inculcating the habits that will sustain our girls throughout their time at school and later at university or college.

Academic work is important, but our idea of education goes beyond the classroom. We aim to produce confident, self-disciplined and motivated girls who are given the opportunity to participate in and enjoy music, drama, sport and outdoor pursuits. An emphasis is also placed on courtesy and concern for others and girls are encouraged to take an active part in charitable work through our house system, both in the local community and further afield.

A School where success is realised.
